PROPOSALS

By Joseph M. Sanderson,

For Publishing by Subscription,

A Biography of the Signers OF THE Declaration of Independence,

Accompanied with Plates.

To which will be annexed a History of the Proceedings of Congress, during the passage of the Law, and the Declaration itself, with the fac simile Engravings of the Signatures.

By JOHN SANDERSON.

TO THE PUBLIC.

When we consider the personal qualities of the statesmen whose names are affixed to the Declaration of Independence, the perilous occasion which demanded the exertion of their wisdom and deliberation, and the influence of their councils on the interests of mankind, we must acknowledge that very rarely a more imposing spectacle has been offered to the world, and we shall seek in vain in the annals of nations, for an event more worthy of commemoration, and of being cherished forever in the hearts of a grateful and generous people. The love of independence is interwoven with the frame and constitution of the human mind. It is almost the first sentiment that animates the infant's features in the cradle; and amongst all the actions and enterprizes of man, none has awaked into activity a greater exertion of the virtuous energies of his nature, none has excited a greater warmth of veneration, and has more imperious claims upon our gratitude, than resistance to tyranny and political aggression.

In all republican states the first tribute of genius has been paid to the patriot or the hero who has promoted the cause of liberty and maintained the independence and dignity of man. The animated canvas and breathing marble have rescued his features from the grasp of death, and the pen of the historian has inscribed the achievements to the imperishable records of fame. It would indeed be no favorable prognostic of the perpetuity of our republican institutions to discover an insensibility to the obligations we owe the memory of the illustrious patrons of American freedom. They have raised us, by their magnanimity, from the arbitrary dominion of a foreign power, to the distinguished elevation of a sovereign and independent people; they have asserted and maintained the imprescriptiole rights of humanity by the "mutual pledge of their pledge of their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honors;" and, as long as virtue holds her empire in the hearts of their successors, the example of these generous benefactors will not be lost to the world; their names will not pass away nor be forgotten, or their glorious deeds be confounded in the common and casual transaction of life.—Ingratitude is a vice that in nations, as well as individuals, indicates the last degree of degeneracy and corruption; it is a vice that implies the absence of every virtue; it was in the age of Caligula that the name of the Scipios was proscribed, that the state of Brutus brought death on its possessor.

"The glory of our ancestors is the light of posterity," and the homage of the living cannot be offered to the merits of the illustrious dead with an effectual or sterile admiration. Great and splendid actions will seldom be achieved by men who have humble or ordinary objects in prospect. It is by contemplating the life, and character of those who are marked out from the multitude by their eminent qualities, that we become emulous of their virtues and their renown. The trophies of Miltiades interrupted the sleeps of Themistocles; and Theseus, hearing the exploits of Hercules, was fired with his spirit, and became the successful rival of his fame. The rude savage of the desert listens with rapture to the deeds of his ancestors, and hangs around his hut the emblems of his father's valour.

More need not be said to enforce the utility of the publication we have undertaken, and which we now submit to the patronage of our fellow-citizens, with a hope, that from the liberality of their encouragement, we shall be able to present it to the public worthy of their approbation. We must depend for the illustration of many of the characters of our biography, upon the generosity of their surviving relatives and friends, to furnish us with whatever interesting materials may be in their possession; for which, with our grateful acknowledgments, we promise a copy of the entire work as a compensation.

CONDITIONS.

I. The work will be published in numbers or half volumes of 200 pages, octavo, and contained in ten numbers. To the first will be prefixed an appropriate frontis-piece—and the work will be commenced with the declaration of independence, with engraved fac similes of the signatures, and a compendious detail of the proceedings of congress, during the passage of the law. Each of the lives, unless when it is impracticable, will be preceded by a likeness of the person, engraved by the best artists in the United States.

II. It will be printed on fine paper, made expressly for the purpose, and delivered to subscribers at two dollars and fifty cents per number, payable on delivery.

'TIS FOLLY ALL.

"'Tis folly all," to sit and pine,
To brood o'er every trifling sorrow,
At every ill to sigh and whine,
Nor think upon to-morrow.
For then bright prospects we may greet
And we from Hope should ever borrow,
And think on joys that we may meet
When dawns on us the coming morrow.

"'Tis folly all," to fret and sigh,
Always to dwell on cares perplexing,
To have the ready streaming eye
For trifling troubles that are vexing.
For e'er the glorious orb of day
Has set, our cares may all be ceasing—
Our paths be cheered by Hope's bright ray,
And every prospect may be pleasing.

"'Tis folly all," to let slip by
The many joys we might be tasting:
For those we've lost, to heave the sigh,
While those we might have fast are wasting.
We've ills enough, aye, and to spare,
Without anticipating sorrow,
Then clear the brow of gloomy care,
And always hope a blissful morrow.

The joys we might have, if we tried,
Would smooth our path, howe'er uneven,
Would make us here, if right applied,
Enjoy a state allied to Heaven:
But still to drink of sorrow's cup,
Embittered by corrosive gall,
When we of sweets might ever sup,
I say again—"'Tis folly all."

A doctor visiting his patient, a lady, requested to look at her tongue. She opened her mouth and put the end of her tongue out. The doctor said put it out a little further, madam—and was under the necessity of repeating it several times, the lady only putting her tongue out a trifling distance each time. At length the doctor remarked, put it out as far as possible, madam. "Lord, doctor," says she, "you must think there's no end to a woman's tongue."

A country carpenter neglecting to make a gibbet which had been ordered by the executioner, on the ground that he had not been paid for the last he had erected, gave so much offence that the next time the judge came to the circuit he was sent for. "Fellow," said the judge, in a stern tone, "how came you to neglect making the gibbet that was ordered on my account?" "Had I known it was for your lordship, (said the carpenter) it should have been done immediately."

A barrister entered the hall with his wig very much awry, and of which not all apprized, he was obliged to endure from almost every observer, some remark on its appearance, till at last, addressing himself to Mr. Curran, he asked him, "Do you see any thing ridiculous in this wig?" The answer instantly was, "Nothing but the head."

Bonaparte, when master of Madrid, at the end of 1808, demanded from all the corporations, communities, magistrates, &c. an oath of allegiance upon the Holy Sacrament. A Spaniard conversing with cardinal Maury on the subject, the cardinal said to him "Ah, he has taken you by your weak side; it will not be possible for you to retract!" "Oh!" replied the Spaniard in a half whisper, "the water was not consecrated."

PRESERVATION FROM FIRE.

Mr. Russell—As there are a great number of buildings in this town, with shingled roofs, and as this circumstance excited great alarm during the late conflagration, I am induced to request the insertion of a recipe to prepare a composition which will effectually preserve any combustible materials covered with it, from destruction by fire.

It was invented at Woltenbuttle in Germany, and communicated several years since to a gentleman in this town by the celebrated professor Ebeling.

The following is the recipe:

"Mix one ounce of sulphur, one ounce of red ochre, and six ounces of copperas together, and make a powder of them." After having prepared the roof, or other parts of the building with some glutinous liquid, you may spread or strew this powder thereon; and repeat it three or four times. It will soon become hard; and will fortify the wood effectually against fire.

This mixture thrown on any substance actually on fire, in the proportion of two ounces to each square foot, will instantly extinguish the fire. Probatum est.

Yours, &c. An Old Citizen.

ALEXANDRIA:
MONDAY MORNING, November 29.

MORE PIRACY.

Extract from the log-book of schr. Caroline, Captain Bodfish, arrived at Boston. On the 21st October, in the Narrows of the Old Bahama Straits, at 10 A. M. was brought to by a piratical schooner, who ordered me to get my boat out and come on board with my papers. When I got on board, my papers were taken from me, my boat's crew and myself ordered below, where a guard was placed over us. They then, with my boat, went on board the Caroline, and commenced a strict search for money, and unluckily found and plundered us of five hundred dollars, two boat loads of sugars, one case gold watches, two chests tea, one trunk of boots and shoes, about one half of our provisions and small stores, half piece duck, twine and needles, brass compass, crow bar, trumpet, all our spare rigging, all our tools, two charts, West India pilot, paints, half bbls. tar, clothing, fruit, vegetables, &c.—When he got through he released me, gave me my papers, and ordered me to return on board. He pretended to be an Insurgent privateer. When I remonstrated with him for thus taking American property, all the satisfaction I got was, that he had lost much property himself, and that he meant now to make up for it—and that his orders were, to take what he wanted, wherever he could find it—that I might think myself lucky I had fared no worse—that he should have loaded his schooner out of mine, if there was not another in sight, which he expected would be a better prize, and when I left him he went immediately in chase of her. The schr. was about 45 tons, pilot-boat built, had 'Sisters of Alexandria" on her stern, which did not appear defaced, as if it had been altered; there were about twelve men who shewed themselves, all of whom I took to be Americans. She sails fast but appeared to be in bad order, as if she had been started on this cruize without much fitting, and I presume was direct from the United States, although the captain told me he was from Galveztown, and shewed me a paper which he said was his commission, but I believed it to be all a forgery. He observed his schooner was called the Creole. He enquired particularly about a captain Blunt, who was daily expected at Neuvitas, from Alexandria, which this captain said he was looking for, and if he took him he should not spare his life, as he was his deadly enemy, &c. The captain is of middling size, dark complexion, and observed he had been often at Neuvitas, and was well acquainted on that part of the coast; and in one of their navigators I observed, while confined below, written "John Lee's book."

Captain Luddington, who sailed from St. Augustine the 13th instant, states, that about five days previous to his sailing, the Governor had written to Havana for an additional number of troops, & a supply of ammunition and provisions, as he daily expected an attack from the Americans. [Nor. Her.

It is with great concern we state, from recent information, that the yellow fever has again made its appearance, with increased malignity, in the devoted town of Mobile.—The inhabitants, who had returned to the town, under the impression that this fatal disease, which had swept away so many valuable citizens, had subsided, are again moving to the country. [Alabama Courier

By a gentleman recently from Pensacola, we learn that the Spanish garrison is incessantly employed in repairing and strengthening the fortifications. For several weeks the governor had been constantly at the Barrancas, superintending the works. Our informants did not understand that any reinforcements had arrived. [Ibid

Eleven thousand and one hundred Spanish dollars arrived at Philadelphia, on Tuesday last, in schr. Horatio, from St. Thomas.

FIRE AT AUGUSTA.

We stop the press to announce that our city has again been visited by the dreadful scourge of cities; and its devastation was greater than we have witnessed for several years. The fire originated in a back building occupied by the Messrs. Dimons, in the rear of Centre-street, and in less than thirty minutes from the time the alarm was given, the whole range of buildings below Renold's street was in flames; fifteen or sixteen houses on both sides of Centre-street are destroyed besides out buildings, but through the active exertions of the citizens and firemen, the store and warehouses of Messrs. Leigh & Cantelou, were saved. The loss of property cannot be less than 30,000 dollars. [Augusta Herald.

At Lexington, Ky. on the 10th instant, a fire broke out, which was not arrested before it had consumed the dwelling house of Mr. Murphey, and Mr. Prentiss, the gaol, the tavern house of Mr. Usher, (the property of Gen. Bodleg,) the grocery of Mr. Blount, and the dwelling houses pertaining to them. Much of the furniture was saved, but the loss was nevertheless considerable.

Chillicothe, (Ohio,) Nov. 10.

On Monday last, about the middle of the day a fire accidentally broke out in the carpenter-shop of Mr. James Bramble, which extended to the old Methodist church, and to a new frame building of Mr. Bramble's, and from thence to his three story brick dwelling, all of which were entirely consumed. The flames extended to the new Methodist church which has lately been erected at considerable expense, but remained unfinished, the roof of which was entirely burnt off, and the house otherwise injured. The amount of property consumed, must be between 6 and 10,000 dollars.

London, Oct. 11.

The famed American frigate Chesapeake, a crack ship of their navy, which became the Shannon's glorious prize, and was condemned at Plymouth, has been purchased by Messrs. Pushman & Holmes, of Portsmouth, who are under bond to government to break her up the next spring. She has been brot round to Portsmouth harbor, by captain Geo. Goble, of Bosham, with a crew of 10 men only, under jury masts, in the most seaman-like manner, and is a great object of attention among nautical men. She is unquestionably as fine a ship as ever swam; her timbers are remarkably stout; her upper deck is 174½ feet in length, and 41 feet 6 inches in the midships; she mounted 54 guns of heavy metal, and was the Shannon's superior in every respect but dicipline.

Who can read the London article respecting the Chesapeake, without smiling at the gross misrepresentations it contains? Such a paragraph may serve to dupe the credulity and gratify the pride of John Bull, but in America we all know that the English ship had no cause for exultation in that capture: the result of a series of untoward accidents.

[N. York Even. Post.

A CAPTIVE RETURNED.

A Greensburg (Pa.) paper, of the 19th instant, says, Peter Klingensmith, a son of the late Mr. Philip Klensingsmith of Hempfield township, returned on Wednesday last to his friends in this county, after an absence of 38 years—9 years of that time, a captive among the Seneca Indians. He was taken at fort Klensingsmith, the residence of his father, 4 miles from this town, when a boy of 8 years of age, while employed in making hay, by a party of that nation, who at the same time massacred his father, mother, and aunt. After many fruitless enquiries, he was given up by his friends as lost or dead. His existence was accidentally discovered by a Mr. Seikes, who met him in Canada during the late war, and heard from him such of his recollections as induced a correspondence with Mr. Drum, postmaster of this place, on the subject, and resulted in the conviction of his identity.—He was then written for, to come home and receive a part of his father's estate, and has accordingly come for that purpose. He married a Seneca woman, by whom he has five children, at his residence on the Canada shore of lake Erie, where he cultivates a farm.

In person and countenance he strongly resembles his brother Gasper Klingensmith.—He intends to return and reside with his family in Canada. He talks good English, and says he lives in an English neighborhood.

FLORIDA TREATY.

The return of the Hornet with despatches from our minister, and the prudent silence of captain Read on the subject of his charge, has naturally excited a variety of opinions.—One of our late French papers by the Asia, from Havre, (The Journal de Rouen,) contains the following, which in substance, corroborates the suggestions in yesterday's Gazette.

TRANSLATION.

"It appears that the Spanish government has not absolutely refused to ratify the treaty concluded with the U. S. for the cession of the Floridas; it only requires some slight alterations, and for this purpose are about sending to the U. S. a charge d'Affaires, M. de Campozande, formerly Ambassador's secretary at London."

In addition to the above translation, a gentleman of this city has favored us with the perusal of a letter from Gibraltar of the 18th ult. from which we are permitted to make the following extract:

"The King of Spain will not ratify the treaty in Madrid, nor make any objections; but appoints an envoy to the U. S. to represent his objections, and receive the explanations of the President."

From the Freeman's Journal.

A letter written by a gentleman on board the U. S. sloop of war Hornet, at N. York, to his friend in this city, states, that the treaty with Spain, for the purchase of the Floridas, "has not been, and will not be ratified, owing it is believed, to the intervention of a third power. The letter further states, that Ferdinand will cede the Floridas to the U. S provided the latter agrees to a number of stipulations, one of which is that they will not recognize the Independence of any of the S. American provinces. It was expected that Mr. Forsyth, our minister at Madrid, would demand his passports in a short time after the Hornet sailed.

Sir John Keane, governor, commander in Chief, and vice Admiral in and over the Island of St. Lucia, &c. has issued his proclamation, bearing date Oct. 21, opening that port for 12 months to vessels of all nations.

A letter from Manchester, Eng. of the 26th ult. received at New-York, says "We shall have no more public meetings of the people until after the meeting of parliament."

We have been favored, (says the N. Y. E. Post) by capt. Natwig of the schr. Science, with a Gibraltar paper of Nov. 17, which states that the deaths at Cadiz, for the month of Sept. amounted to 1113. The same paper adds, that on the 10th of Oct. there were 99 burials.

At Philadelphia on the 25th inst. 91 1-4 offered, 92 3-4 asked, for U. S. bank stock, no sales.

A Cherry-Valley, N. Y. paper, of the 9th instant, says—We have recently seen specimens of two kinds of very fine dark variegated marble; found in the quarry of Mr. Jno. Walton, within a few rods of this village. It works as easy, and admits of as high a polish as the Massachusetts or Vermont marble; and for hearths, fire places, &c. equals it in beauty. Mr. Walton has engaged workmen of approved skill, and will execute orders for any kind of marble work. Specimens of the marble may be seen at Mr. Walton's tavern.

The Detroit Gazette says, we are indebted to a gentleman from Ohio for the following information respecting the value of the different sorts of bank notes which are in circulation in that state, and which are also sent into this territory for circulation. The editor does not vouch for the correctness of the "laconic remarks," but feels confident they will be of some service to his readers.

Bank of Chillicothe, do. of Lancaster, the banks of Steubenville, Farmers' and Mechanics Bank of Scioto, Bank of Marietta, Western Reserve Bank, Bank of Mount Pleasant.—Good.

Bank of West Union, Farmers', Mechanics', and Manufacturers' Bank of Chillicothe, Bank of Columbus, do of Dayton.—Decent.

Lebanon, Miami, Banking company, Zanesville Canal do. Bank of Urbanna, do. of Muskingum—Middling.

SINGULAR CURE FOR SCOLDING.

Happening in Cincinnati a few days ago, the following singular circumstance was related by many gentlemen of respectability, some of whom had witnessed the fact, and all believed in its correctness.

A woman, on her way to Cincinnati in a steam boat commenced a most tremendous "shower of words" upon a sister passenger, a few hours before the boat landed. Notwithstanding the vast experience of this modern Xantippe in the art of scolding, she unfortunately opened her mouth to such an enormous extent as actually to dislocate her jaws. The passengers, astonished at her sudden silence and frightened at her alarming and grotesque appearance, kept at a respectful distance, while she with hasty steps and clenched hands paraded the deck of the boat. As soon as they landed a surgeon was called who instantly discovered the cause of our heroine's wide and distorted mouth, but from the time which had elapsed, no effort of his could reduce the dislocation without a previous relaxation of the contracted and rigid muscles of the part. To effect this purpose, he put a lighted segar in each corner of his mouth and puffed the smoke down the throat of his patient, notwithstanding, she resisted, pugnis et calcibus, with all her might. The smoke presently produced nausea and faintness, and a consequent relaxation of the muscles when the luxation was immediately reduced; and we are happy to learn, that, though the woman is still living, and in good health, she has not been heard to scold since! It is further stated that it had a good effect upon the Xantippe sisterhood in the vicinity of that place especially restraining such huge invectives as require such a vast extension of jaws to enable them to pass through.

London, Oct. 15.

During the absence of the Jury yesterday, Mr. Carlisle* retired to the Guildhall coffee house to dinner. As soon as the verdict was announced, intelligence was immediately conveyed to him. Shortly after he had received this intelligence he proceeded to his house in Fleet-street, in company with Mr. Hunt. The moment the public were apprised of the verdict, there was an immediate and overwhelming demand for Paine's Age of Reason, Palmer's Principles of Nature, and every other blasphemous work which was on sale. The whole stock on hand of which was found instant purchasers.

The first trial of Carlile terminated yesterday, in a verdict of Guilty, and never, assuredly, has a verdict been given in a British Court of Justice, more accordant with the best feelings of British hearts. He has been one of the most daring traffickers in blasphemy and sedition that perhaps ever disgraced any christian any civilized country. In his example, then, let those who would be bad enough to imitate him, learn from their fears that restraint which they can never receive from their principles.

* He was indicted for selling Paine's Age of Reason.

CHEAP TRAVELLING.

Such is the spirit of opposition between the proprietors of two rival coaches in the neighboring town, that one has advertised to carry passengers to Liverpool at the following fares:—Inside, what you please! Outside, ditto! This seemed to carry the matter as far as it would go; but the other parties were not to be discouraged, and in a short time, they issued placards, stating that their coach would take passengers at the following rate:—Inside, nothing at all, a bottle of wine included. Outside, ditto, ditto! [Lon. paper.

On Saturday morning last, a dreadful accident on the explosion of inflammable gas took place in the George Pit, near Lumley. The gas ignited the candle of a hewer named Sim. Gee, who had worked into a part where, owing, it is supposed to a hole of the roof, a quantity of gas had accumulated, from a blower. By this accident eleven men and boys were killed on the spot, nine of whom belonged to Lumley and two to New Lambton. Gee and another boy died on Sunday of the injury they sustained, and many others have been severely hurt, but are now recovering. It is supposed to have contained about 80 persons at the time of the accident. [Ib.

A SHIRT WITHOUT SEAMS.

Thos. Hall, an ingenious linen-weaver, in Ireland, has lately finished a shirt entirely in his loom. It is woven throughout without seams, is very accurately gathered at the neck, shoulders, and wrists. The neck and wrist bands are double and stitched; there is a regular selvage to each side of the breasts; the shoulder straps and gussets are neatly stitched, as well as the wristbands. In short, it is as perfectly finished as if made by an expert seamstress. The shirt has been exhibited to several gentlemen in the linen trade, who have completely satisfied themselves, that it is actually the production of the loom without any assistance from the needle.

London, Oct. 19.

A terrible accident happened in the neighborhood of Cannobies, on Friday week. A gentleman, on his return from shooting, having a loaded gun in his hand, met on the road a young woman of his acquaintance, whom he attempted to kiss. A kind of struggle ensued, in which some part of the unfortunate girl's apparel came in contact with the trigger; the gun went off, and its contents lodged in her breast, she expired on the spot! The unhappy man is said to be in a state of mind, in consequence, bordering upon delirium.

PAINE'S WORKS.

We are requested by Mr. Knight Spencer, secretary to the Surrey Institution, to state that the assertion of Carlisle, that Paine's Age of Reason was to be found in all the Literary Institutions in the metropolis, is false, respects this institution, and further that no part of that writer's works has ever polluted its shelves!

MR. KEAN.

We are informed by a correspondent that NEW TYPES are casting at a foundry, expressly for the purpose of pronouncing Mr. Kean's name in a proper manner in the bills. They are to be himself, rather short, but have, what printers call a fine broad face.

IMPORTANT.

The New-York Gazette of the 26th inst. says—"There is a letter in town, from Don Onis, dated Oct. 10, which says that the treaty which he negociated with the United States, is not, but WILL BE ratified."

Married,

On Sunday the 14th instant, by the Rev. Reuben Finnell, Mr. Joseph Caldwell, Jr. editor of the Virginia Reformer, to Miss Ann, daughter of the late Captain John Mitchell, of Shenandoah, near Front Royal.

A typographical brother technically observes, that the above is a proof that Mr. Caldwell made a good impression on the heart of the amiable Miss Mitchell; and that in such cases it always affords matter of satisfaction to think that no error has been committed, that hereafter might cause a blur upon their characters, or give rise to an erratum. [Genius of Liberty.

Fifty Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber, on Thursday, the 11th inst. a negro man, named DICK, who sometimes calls himself Dick Douglas. He is a small man about 5 feet 6 inches high, and is not a very black man. I purchased him from the estate of Edgar McCarty, esq. Cedar Grove, Fairfax county, Va. and it is likely that he may be lurking about that neighborhood or Colchester, as he has a wife at capt. Berry's of the latter place; or he may have gone to Loudoun county, as he has lived there in the neighborhood of Wm. McCarty and John McCarty, near Leesburg. He had on and took with him an old grey cloth coat and a brown do pantaloons of drab colored domestic cloth. He is much addicted to liquor, and is a coarse shoemaker. I will give 20 dollars if taken in the district of Columbia. Thirty dollars if taken in Fairfax county, and the above reward if apprehended in any other place, and secured so that I get him again; and reasonable charges if brought home. WM. B. STUART.

100 Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber, living near Aldie, Loudoun county, Virginia, on the night of the 11th inst. a negro man, who calls his name NED BIAYS. He is a shrewd, intelligent negro, about 5 feet 7 or 8 inches high; 30 years of age, well made, active and polite. Had on when he went away, a sky colored coat, and corded pantaloons. His right eye sore, apparently occasioned by a blow, the blood having settled around it. His ears have been pierced, and had green silk in them when he went away. It is expected he is now lurking about Fairfax court-house and Aldie. The above Ned Biays ran away on the night of the 25th of last Aug. and was caught on the 11th inst. on the night of which he effected his elopement by drawing the staple to which he was fastened by the handle of a pan, while there was no person in the kitchen but himself. He was caught on the 11th inst. a few miles below Aldie, but I think it improbable that he has gone near the same place again. I will give 100 dollars if he is taken out of the county, and fifty if taken in the county, and secured so that I get him again, and all reasonable charges if brought home. GEO. GULICK.

P. S. It is supposed that the said negro has obtained papers of freedom, or a free pass, or something of the kind. G. G.

100 Dollars Reward.

I WILL give the above reward to any person who will return to my possession, negro LAWRENCE, who assumes the sirname of FENWICK. This fellow left my farm, on the Wicomico river, in Charles county, Md. on the 6th July, in consequence of his own outrageous conduct towards my overseer. He is a negro of a fine erect figure, good features, asmooth black skin, rather above the middle stature, of a youthful appearance for one of thirty years of age, and of great plausibility and natural smartness. His ears grow remarkably close to his head, and on the inside of his lower lip he has a white mark or spot. I purchased him 4 years ago of the estate of Mrs. P. H. Courts, of this county. I am led (by circumstances which have come to my knowledge since he absconded,) to believe that he will endeavor to make his way to King George county, Va.; should he not take this route, he will probabiy be met with in the District of Columbia, or in the upper counties of this state, on his way to Pennsylvania. I apprehend he will change his name, and if committed to jail, refuse to state to whom he belongs, as the misconduct which preceded his departure, & his absconding, have all appeared since to have been premeditated. He took all his clothes with him, of which he had a large number; among them—a new bearskin over-coat, a long close-bodied blue coat, a pair of striped jean pantaloons, one or more white waistcoats, besides many articles of coarse clothing; these, however, he will probably exchange, or sell them for cash to defray his travelling expenses.

I will give the above reward to any person who will bring him home to me, or FIFTY DOLLARS if confined in jail, and notice given me, so that I recover him.—Should he be taken out of the state, I will also pay all reasonable costs and charges which may attend the bringing him home.

RAN AWAY on the 25th of April last, a man called NED, formerly the property of Mr. Fitzhugh, of Fairfax, and by him sold to Hepburn & Dundas. He had on when he went away an old country blue and white cloth coat, and kersey trowsers—his right hand in a sling, in consequence of the kick of a horse. Ned is a stupid looking fellow, and hesitates very much when he speaks. I will give fifty dollars if apprehended in the District, or the above reward for apprehending him out of the District, so that I get him again.

S. Drew, Merchant Tailor,

Removed from Fairfax-street to the corner of King and Columbus streets, and his prices falling,

RESPECTFULLY acquaints his customers and the citizens in general that he has removed as above, where he will study to give satisfaction. He has by him a small but well assorted stock of goods, which will be found on inspection to be of the best quality, the whole of which he wishes to sell low for cash, and as further inducements to purchasers he offers to cut out any goods, bought of him to any size or pattern gratis.

S. Drew aware, of the advantage a ready money business has over one where long credit is given, thinks that a distinction ought to be made in the prices in each case: and as the price of provisions are low at present, he is glad to be able to announce to those customers who will feel disposed to pay him ready money for his work, that he will reduce the price of making to them according to the present journeymen's wages; and to prevent any supposed imposition on the one hand or disatisfaction on the other he is willing to be governed by the printed regulations of prices by which the journeymen are paid in Alexandria.

N. B. Bread, flour, beef, groceries, liquors or any thing valuable taken in exchange for clothes.

S. Drew has this day opened a tavern in the same house, where he has laid in a supply of Philadelphia and the district porter and ale, together with liquors of the best quality, and he feels confident that he shall be able to give satisfaction to all who will please to favor him with a call.—He is fitting up his house for the accommodation of boarders, travellers, &c. and from its central situation, good beds and stabling, together with other requisites, he presumes that it will be found a convenient establishment.
